

Graduate Destination Survey

Graduates from 2012

Summary Report

Purpose

The Graduate Destination Survey was sent to all EIT graduates who completed their programme of study in 2012.

The results help EIT to understand how successful our graduates are in finding employment and what best helped them find employment. This information will be used to provide current students with accurate information on employment, salary bands and job tenure that they can expect to find themselves in after graduation.

By understanding who our graduates are and through the students' reflection of their overall learning experiences, EIT can make Teaching and Learning more effective and improve its overall performance.

Graduate Employment Situation

97.5% of our Maori graduates and
96.7% overall graduates are working, studying or planning to study.

69% of EIT graduates were working or self-employed on 1
June 2012 with 63% of those working full time.

95% of graduates were working in New Zealand.

83% were working in the Hawke's Bay/East Coast region.

Do you get value for Money at EIT?

Would graduates recommend their programme to others?

EIT's target for this question is that at least 85% of our graduates consider their programme of study a good investment of time and money.

We are pleased that we exceeded this target yet again and also that 95% would recommend studying at EIT to others!

Action for EIT: EIT commits to identify areas for improvement around the students' digital skills and communication skills and improve this result over the next couple of years.

Best Aspects

Themes that were extracted from all responses to the Question

‘What were the Best Aspects of the programme’?

1. Accessibility of our staff
2. Quality of our staff
3. Social affinity in the area of support
4. Knowledge and skills

Areas that need improvement

Themes that were extracted from all responses to the Question 'What Needs Improvement in the programme'?

1. Methods of teaching in the courses
2. Flexibility of courses
3. Structure of courses
4. Quality of staff

EIT action:

As part of its annual plan, EIT is working on improving its Teaching and Learning, is reviewing course designs regularly and developing clearer pathways and transitions into higher level programmes.

All non degree programmes will be redeveloped in 2014 to 2016 as part of the nationwide Targeted Review of qualifications. EIT is not allowed to make changes to the structure of its programmes.

Programme Quality

95%

of EIT's graduates were overall satisfied with the quality of the programme they studied.

Comments from EIT staff: Getting this feedback is encouraging and is motivating to keep improving the programmes and tutor's performance.

To our 2013 Graduates

At the start of August, you will be send an email invitation to give us your feedback on your experience at EIT.

Your feedback will enable us to analyse not only how 2013 went, but also identify trends from the last three years.

We can then identify areas that we need to improve as well as areas that we can use as great examples.

Your feedback is highly valued. It will be looked at, it will be analysed and it will be used to make EIT a better place to study.

We look forward to receiving your feedback.

Best regards
